About those who leave the structure

You've probably read the text of our Beloved Prophet in Contact 266 about people who have left the Structures recently, in addition to trying to attract their friends in their decisions.

Here's what he said on this subject, the white knights that we are:

"We must also remind everyone that during training, we clearly [state] each year, a member of the structures must never hear a single sentence criticizing other guides or structure and must always stop abruptly person who criticizes and say, "sends a letter to the council of elders or board of discipline, I do not want to hear criticism of other guides "and must immediately leave the person who criticizes. This course includes criticisms about the Guide of Guides And we also say that any member who hears criticism of the movement, structure, guides, including Guide of Guides, should immediately report to the council of elders that he has appropriate sanctions on the person who criticizes, including deportation or cancellation its TPC. If there is no report on these reviews, it means the person who not the report will also be subject to penalties.

Here is an article written by Daniel C, our planetary responsible education on this subject:

Our inner demons

Warning: It is possible that some of you find the following a bit hard. May Some are skinned in passing. But I think it is my duty as a disciple of Last Prophet to do so. Not only because I am Bishop and Chief Global education and part of my mandate is to ensure that lessons Our Prophet are faithfully preserved and passed on, but also and above all to are integrated in the depths of our being. And in this regard, I am like you, I'm learn to do it. So what follows is intended as much to me that all of you.

Come to the point. In the New Message of the Elohim of 13 December 52, it is written this: "Let your joy to see our Great Return approach gives you wings to overcome the pitfalls of last term. We are so close that day and you that you collect you can feel our presence ... And that feeling will illuminate your days and nights and make your life wonderful, whatever the events that you remains to be overcome ... "

But what are they these pitfalls, and these tests? Is it all hype negative media that affects countries such as the French-speaking countries? Is it the fact of seeing his picture in the newspaper and feel judged and criticized later by members of our family or work colleagues? Is it the fact of losing our jobs or our contracts work or care for our children after the articles were defamatory? Is it the fear that happened to some may happen to us? Unless this is not following the announcement evidence of a cloned baby by a bishop? Or by the possibility of using a hoax to promoting truth? Or perhaps in connection with the creation of the Order of Angels?

Thinking about all this teaching of the Buddha: "we are all experienced where we have the greatest need. " And believe me, I understood what it meant and I have repeatedly testified in front of you how much it might be nutritious for consciousness! What I understand and I keep making the best of my personal shortcomings is that the real tests are not those who come from outside, but those that arise from within.

External causes listed above are only there to tease, challenge, nurture our internal weaknesses and suddenly, we serve as an apology (ex causa) and alibis for intellectuals justify our behavior resulting from these internal weaknesses. All the prophets and probably all their followers had to be tested in their deep faith. Is it enough to think the Prophets Abraham, Job and Jesus. But we must also think the disciples Peter (who had right the singing of the cock to warn) and Judas, whose conscience could not withstand the shock of betrayal of human weakness which characterized him, as it characterizes us all, could outweigh the momentary alienation.

There are people who leave the structures and which, when listening, have reason personal that may seem logical, honest and very aware. But any researcher Truth must be frank and honest with himself. Every lover of truth must ask itself real issues, questioning the real reasons, to face the real demons that inhabit it. And the real reasons are NEVER outside. The real reasons are always internal to the limit of our faith, where is our ability to distinguish truth from falsehood, on the outskirts the fine line that separates fact from fiction, the end of the plea, the essential accessory, authentic the strategic, fundamental to our mission and everything else serves only to highlight the Truth now or in the future. In sum, the events caused by internal external elements are used either to unseal our eyes to know that we are naked or the scramble to make us believe that we are greater than the Truth. The mendacious, loss of contracts or custody of her children, and gossip insults, accusations and libel, not cloned babies are cloned in really just excuses, extraordinary opportunities we measure ourselves. What must look at the deepest level, what are the real internal causes (which could called "Die Clash" as opposed to an apology) and are in direct connection with our weaknesses and gaps deeper.

Sometimes people ask me if I'm sad or disappointed that a member of the structures just resign. The answer is NO. I'm never sad or disappointed by the departure of a person simply because that is his choice and his freedom. But where I can say I am disturbed, regardless of who was discharged or resign is when I see people worked ten or even twenty years as a Knight of the Elohim and decide to throw in the towel, leaving at once their team and their leader. The image that comes is the soldier who decided to desert in the middle of the fight, leaving his colleagues and sisters alone against the enemy. I see mostly our General who is at the front, which relies on those who are behind him for support and who, when he returns, finds that some have dropped ... My disappointment is not for those who leave, but for him which is left by his knights who had told him "you can count on me to the end", but who failed to fight their inner demons. While it is the greater freedom to leave one movement to the Embassy, it is also everyone's duty to do so by admitting the real reasons that have motivated: the failure to test Interior has submitted to them under the false disguise of an external event. It is also the duty of everyone to take decisions alone, without trying to convince others he's right, trying to find themselves allied with their weaknesses.

The antidote

In each there is a poison antidote. In this case, the antidote is a return to a vision Panoramic lost. Have you ever watched a mosaic of very closely? Have you noticed that from this point of view closer, it is impossible to recognize what is shown in all? Not only is it impossible to recognize the fresco consists of the mosaic, but in addition, all interpretations become possible when one's nose pasted on it. The loss of the overall vision almost always leads to errors interpretations. Another interesting thing happens too. When viewing a mosaic closely, we see lots of small faults. It's like watching a beautiful woman or a handsome man. Overall, he or she seems wonderful. But when approached very closely, we see the flaws and imperfections appear. This analogy is interesting because it applies everything. For each situation of our life, little emotional problem to the fundamental dilemma Philosophically, it's the same phenomenon occurs. We become focused on the retail bugging us and we lose sight of all that we previously published and beautiful sense. The small piece of the mosaic that looks at closely is rarely perfect. Instead, it has several flaws. But just as the equilibrium is an infinite number of imbalances which offset each other, the perfection (or truth) is composed of a multitude of small faults that offset each other.

The messages, once again, teach us that we must always consider things compared to four levels: the individual, society, the Elohim and the infinite. When a problem or test is presented to us, it is imperative to consider it in relation to these four plans. When we glue the nose on a piece of mosaic, not only do we lose sight overall, but more are beginning to question the choice of the artist and even his skills. We start to criticize and even to doubt her artistic abilities.

Remember the movie Amadeus. Critics say about him that his music consisted "Too many notes." Remember also the response of Amadeus: this music is perfect, you do it can remove a single note without damaging its beauty. But still need to know to appreciate Overall, this is unfortunately not always the case ... especially when one finds to a piece as masterly as the Messages of the Elohim, which not only concern not only the present but also past and future of our humanity. The risks of error are great and that's probably why there are as many and as little known chosen.

I would finally end on a crucial point. Very often, those who decide to the race that is featured on their philosophical road, leaving the movement, also say continue to believe in the Elohim and the fact that they have created life on our planet. To them I would remember this phrase from the message of 13 December 1952, a sentence that had also been imposed by other prophets before:
"No one comes to the Father than through the wires.

About distribution

In Italy, Marco says:

In Italy we have a great success with the evening broadcast-soft on Crop Circles.

Until now we have organized three evening-lectures on this theme with investment of money very limited and the results are:

First night in Verona - 90 people
Second night in Rovereto - 70 people
Third party in Trento - 140 people

We introduce ourselves as Raelians but we're not talking about the Movement during the evening and incredible at the end of the evening there are dozens of people who want to know more and they give their details to be contacted for other parties ... it's a bit of the windscreen but it works. The concept is that of ask nothing but only to offer information and believe me, it was long as I had not heard clapped spontaneously from the public :-) I decided therefore to extend the thing to all regions of Italy.

Here's what our Beloved Prophet asked us to read this information:

This confirms the need to return to the essential Messages: 5 points, UFOs and messages for Extra Terrestrial, and all that it connects, such as crop circles between Other ... Please go in this direction in your broadcasts, wherever you are on the planet.

How to make www.rael.org is the default page on your browser

For those who do not know how to have www.rael.org or Page default when you open the browser, and especially to establish it on computers Internet cafes, libraries and other public access computer as proposed Leon in the final WK, you can find information at this address: <http://home.core.com/web/technicalsupport/library/sethomepage.html>

Need your ideas ...

We would add - on rael.org - a link where the public and downloader send images and video clips to their amazing friends, who themselves would send to their friends, etc.. To advertise for rael.org virally.

We need your ideas. Send us your ideas ¹ s surprising images shocking, funny, awareness, beautiful, erotic, groundbreaking, and our artists draw them. It looks especially your original ideas, not copies of what has already been done.

The second part of the project is having on the site ¹ small clips videos humorous, surprising, touching, like a pub or false advertising, which will be made Our teams videos. Again your script ideas are welcome.

If you have skills in video, graphics, ¹ s desire to participate actively in this broadcast, you can write to the address below ¹:
