International Newsletter for Raelians in Action.

Issue # 03

December 19, 59 a.H.

Our Beloved Prophet already arrived in Accra where the teams of Tai, so happy to be close to Him, actively prepare the press conference and the seminars.

I want to share an anecdote that you may appreciate. At the end of the meal today, I explained to the headwaiter how to manage the bill of the Prophet and he answered me that he would present the bill himself to the Prophet, etc...

Yes, you aren't dreaming, all members of the hotel personnel speak of our Beloved Prophet by calling him "Prophet".

Hmmm, we really feel great here. Yesterday, He told us that it would be just if the embassy was constructed in Africa...

IQ test

In Contact 255 you could read our Beloved Prophet's demand that we pass the IQ test by the "Mensa Society". For that you must go to the site of the Mensa Society of your country. To know the address of the Mensa of your country, first proceed to the general site, www.mensa.org. Once you have your score, send it to your national guide who will forward it so that we can create our average... Don't be shy and amuse yourselves. We all know what these tests are worth. They don't include emotional intelligence yet so don't worry, but have a blast, be creative, and be yourselves!!!

Public relations

Gerard, assisting our Beloved Prophet, demands that all members of the structure contact the media and media personalities in order to arrange interviews and meetings. It is our mission for everyone and not only for the public relation teams... Although it is not your responsibility to give the interviews, let's allow the spokespersons to play their role, but it is our role for all of us to get them the interviews!!

In Switzerland, after some calls made by two people (Jean Marc C and Gilt K), they already won 2 interviews with big media!! Bravo J

About the books

Following our Beloved Prophet's decision to allow the public to download the books on the internet, we already placed the book, "Yes To Human Cloning" on the Clonaid site... In 5 days, 230 books were downloaded. J

It seems that 10% of our visitors do it!!! They will soon all be available on rael.org. Let it be known!! Reasoning with 100,000 visitors per month, this should make 10,000 books downloaded per month, wow!!!

A word from David U of Brazil

Before arriving in Rome for the Convention, I went for two weeks to Portugal in order to do two casting sessions in the location of an important movie project to be achieved between Brazil, Portugal and France which I was producing. The welcome from the media was excellent and I benefited from good and often long articles in the main newspapers and magazines of the country. Indeed, such a big casting session had never taken place in Portugal. In Porto, more than 700 people showed up.

Until I was there, all went smoothly in the exercise of a professional activity. But this was before counting on the shabby intentions of some of the media. On the morning of the second casting in Lisbon, they published an entire page with the title: "Leader Of The Cloning Sect In Brazil Comes To Look For Talent In Portugal" (see enclosed). It had a big effect on the progress of the second casting: the Warner studio where the casting was supposed to take place, and with whom we were partners, withdrew that same morning the room where we were heading a casting session for two days, in which we expected to receive 1,500 people. We moved quickly to relocate the operation in a luxury hotel.

In this extreme and nearly catastrophic situation we turned it around with courage and determination. I thank my partners and colleagues who supported me valiantly and who, in the adversity, stayed faithful and rebounded where they had so much to lose. We then summoned the press and in a very firm counterattack we affirmed the fundamental right of each person to choose and live his/her religion and philosophical choice without discrimination. The result was more than conclusive.

The following day, two big newspapers gave me a full page, this without counting a few other articles. The tone was even, and we had played out our hand in the middle of a storm as we so often do, us Raelians. The articles narrated the progress of the casting and confirmed my Raelian affiliation seeming to accept it, as they accept that John Travolta or Tom Cruise are Scientologists, or Madonna, Britney Spears or Nicole Kidman "neo-Cabbalists."

I didn't fail to refer them to this analogy, which hoisted me to the level of the Hollywood stars! Anyway, the movie project was not aborted and at the scale of a country, certainly small, we succeeded in affirming that a public person be accepted as being Raelian.

In the heat of the action trying to limit the breaking of a professional and commercial operation, trying to avoid that the costs raze from a few thousands euros to a dozens of thousand instead, I stepped back. While affirming being Raelian, I declared my religion as private and my work as a nonpublic engagement, that is to say no longer in the role of national spokesperson for Brazil. This strategic withdrawal certainly permitted me to round out the angles in the middle of the battle, but it became bothersome after a couple of days and frankly intolerable when this information, more or less gossiped, arrived in the Prophet's ears: after so many months without seeing Him, I had the immense privilege to have Him come up to me and say a few words -- and what words! "I've been told that you want to leave the structure."

I never in my whole Raelian life had the intention of such a withdrawal, even though my claim of withdrawing from the spokesperson team last week was merely strategic and the fruit of an urgent confusion, corresponding to no concrete and official resignation, I stepped back for a moment, and facing he Prophet this withdrawal filled me with shame and froze my blood as if Judas was drooling on my neck whispering, "Welcome to the cluuuuuub!"

Rome was marvelous, and I felt a new love there for the Prophet, as if a small false step had pushed me to look at Him as my Father, rather than as my Prophet. I love you Rael, and since I didn't say it often, I repeat it now: I love you my Prophet and I thank you for striking me straight on the hotel steps!

The part that I won in Portugal was only a first battle's love against anti-Raelian cowardice. I will lead it also in Brazil, and there this won't be too difficult, then in France and here we are going to have fun!

Because until now I knew how to save my professional activities from the opinions and thunders of all those that want us pained. But today I tightened my belt, and face with all my brothers and sisters the numerous but inconsistent armies of the tyrants of standardization and obscurantism.

The tree grew: the young stem of the juvenile apple tree doesn't always resist the strong wintry storm, but then one day the grown tree is strong and holds much good.

We are this tree and the Gardener of Infinity asks that we stop hiding behind obsolete screens.

Every Raelian is a chess player, who will certainly undergo some losses, but who will always win his/her game, because we have with us all a King, who is always many moves ahead so that no terrestrial player can threaten Him. We are all bishops and rooks, at our King's service. None of us is a pawn, none of us advances a square at a time! We are bound and united around the Prophet King so that no lost "media" pawn, no alleyway is free to the adversary. So that those who are not able to have both their feet on the chessboard remain to the side, chilly and timorous. Let's give them love but let's not lose perspective near them because the Last of the Prophets is always in the heart, in the center of the game, under the gaze of myriads, of little unscrupulous and greedy pawns who are anxious to jostle and afflict him with a phantasmagoric 'check mate'. They shall never succeed because He is the son of Yahweh and because especially, here on earth, us Raelians, us members of the structure, are a rampart against the absolute ignominy that it would be to see Him wounded; like an intolerable picture (that I didn't try to see other than on the first printed information) of the attack to which He was victim on a Québec television show.

Here we are entering a new phase of the Raelian rocket launch in which we are asked to become white knights: what an immense privilege! What an immeasurable happiness to be rewarded of such a new mission at the service of the Last of the Prophets whom I love with all my heart. Thank you Rael! Thank you, thank you, and again thank you!
